

ABSTRACT

Image production record information related to image data is used to determine whether or not to execute a trimming process. Exposure 5 program data and photograph scene data or subject area information, etc., are used as the image production record information.